The Yankee's gave the Tigers a hard tussle from the first rather to the ninth londing. The second first to the ninth inning. The second is was a walkover. All the other Ameri-League teams played double headers. Atlletics, who are giving the Detroits that out the hard run for the pennant, shut out the sox won two from the Senators. The

DETROIT, 2: NEW YORK (A. L.), 1-FIRST GAME In one fell swoop Hughie Jennings's hampion Detroit Tigers blotted the Highanders from all chance for the first division by clutching both ends of yesterday's second was a slugging bee, in which some of the locals completely lost their heads and by costly errors helped Detroit pile up a 10 to 4 score. It was a poor game and no one cared when the umpires called off hos-tilities at the end of seven innings, even though it was still light enough to continue. It was the old story of bitter disappointment for a big crowd. One of the choicest gatherings of the year was on hand and as usual the Highlanders played poor ball. It was rather hard luck that broke the chain eight consecutive victories. There was no hard luck about the second encounter. the contest where there was little danger of a home triumph. Four local errors interspersed with the swatting made it

The sojourn in Washington made it possible for Jennings to save up his best hard worked twirlers for the big day. Friday's rain helped too. Eddie Summers and George Mullin form a pair of performers difficult for the very best of good teams. Summers was thrown in against Manning in the first game: Manning was Stallings's trump card and when the Detroit club was able to stop him it took all the starch and pepper out of the gutfit. Joe Doyle was not right at any time in the second. He was afforded etched support, in which the faults of Knight and Sweeney stood out too promibut should never have been allowed to linger as long as he did. Eventually he was taken out, but not until after it was

The Highlanders could not hit Summers the pinches. They couldn't hit Mullin, pinch hit of the afternoon for New York, his smash to Cobb putting Sweeney on third. Hemphili was called out on strikes, but Keeler singled through O'Leary, sooring Sweeney. Chase forced Keeler.

It was Sammy Crawford's impressive bas that broke it up in the eighth inning. Hit triple to the right centre field fence scored Bush, who had waiked with one out and stolen after Cobb fouled to Chase. That is all to the story so far as results are concerned. There was one other occasion when the Highlanders overlooked an opportunity here and there, however. One of the best openings occurred in the fourth inning when New York filled the bases on Summers with but one out. Sweeney hit into a double play, perishing at first after Mullin's throw forced Cardner at the plate. Engle's flerce smash would have been good for a triple had it not got right into Moriarty's glove. Gardner was safe at first when Tom Jones dropped Moriarty's wide throw. Knight poked a single to centre and all hands were safe when Summers Flayed Austin's grounder to third. Moriarty overlooked the formality of tagging third, according to the officious Ferrine. Here is where Sweeney inserted his hard luck tap referred to above.

In the fifth Summers got out of trouble with a lucky stop on Manning that killed a single. Hemphill here outsuessed the knuckle bail expert and strolled. Davy Jones was planted just right for Keeler, and the short Texas lenguer Wee Williegenerally pulls safe proved an out. Hemphill stole second on Stanage's bad throw. When Chase beat a hit to Bush, Elberfeld, coaching at third, sent Hemphill in to certain death.

Detroot also overlooked opportunities.

coaching at third, sent Hemphill in to certain death.

Detroit also overlooked opportunities. Austin beran the sixth with a fumble on Davy Jones. The little fielder tried to steal third base after Bush scorificed. It cost a run, as Cobb hit safely. Hemphill's grand running catch off Crawford saved at least a run. In the seventh Moriarty led off with a stroil. Tom Jones, who figured in the first run, came through with a single after Stanage struck out. That put Moriarty on third. O'Leary fouled to Sweeney and Hemphill epoiled an extra base hit for Sunmers by a good catch.

The second game was all over about as agon as it started. The third inning seemed Detroit's lucky round, for on Jee Doyle in the last game they hammered hard enough to score three in this period. They added runs much as they pleased thereafter, for though New York came back with two in its half that was as close as Stallings's men ever got. Young Carroll showed a fine curve ball in the last two lunings after the game had been lost by Doyle. The scores:

SIX DAY MOTORCYCLE RACE. Nine Teams to Start To-night at Brighton Beach Motordrome.

to act as official starter for the six day motorcycle team race which is to start a few minutes after midnight to-night at the Brighton Beach Motordrome and for which nine teams of three men each have been entered. The race will be the first six day motorcycle race ever held in this country or Europe.

The members of the competing teams are not professional riders, nor are all of them trade riders—that is, men employed by some motorcycle manufacturer or agent. In many instances the riders are amateurs who have entered the race for the fun of competing. Several of the teams will represent motorcycle clubs and the rivalry between them is expected to add great interest to the race.

The team members are to be distinguished by letters instead of by numbers. Each rider will carry on the right hand hub of his front wheel a large metal disk, bearing the distinguishing letter of his team, so the spectators can easily keep track of the progress of the race. The teams entered are as follows:

The Cincinnati Reds took the first game from the New York's yesterday afternoon and tied them in the second. The game was called at the end of the ninth inning on account of darkness. McGraw tried out one of his new pitchers in the opening contest. The Pirates kept up their winning streak by shutting out the Phillies while the Booklyns were snowed under by the Cardinals. L.), 21 PIRST CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—A muffed fly in the first inning of the second game was all that prevented the Giants contributing two games to the local athletes in a bargain game this afternoon. It wasn't that Mcthat they failed to get away with even one victory, the meat in the cocoanut being that the Reds' pitcher was keyed up to an exceedingly high state of efficiency and got support that inspired confidence.

In the first game Manager McGraw trotted out Drucke, a Texas recruit, who showed some form by fanning five of the locals in the first three innings.

Then he lost his grip, bases on balls, hits and stolen bases being tossed into the crucible by the Reds, with nice, shining runs as a result of the mixture. Klawitter came to the rescue in the seventh and did nicely for the two turns he had at Grif,'s men. The Giants scored only two runs off Fromme, one in the seventh, when Bridwell hit for two bases, and Meyers produced a long fly after Merkle had fanned. One in the eighth resulted from a pass to Doyle, Seymour's single and a long fly by Murray.

The second game saw a number of chances to score glide by because of the superior pitching of Mathewson and Spade. The Giants cut in with a run in the first inning on Seymour's single and steal and Bescher's muff off Murray's easy fly. That also ended the visitors scoring, although they had two men cut down at third in the third inning and were left with all the corners renanted in the ninth by Merkle striking out.

ners tenanted in the since the first out.

The lone taily of the Reds came in the sixth, as a result of Clark's double, Spade's sacrifice and Bescher's single. Subsequently Bescher reached third on a steal and a wild throw, but perished when he attempted to score on a sharp rap to Merkle. A double header will be played again tomorrow. The scores:
